Basic ("Normal") access

What a member can see when they log in to their own page.

- Holds

Holds

Turned on via Toy Library Settings

Current and previous holds are displayed through this page. Members can delete their current hold at any time - this is a true hold, and will remove the record. If they are position number 1 and the toy is available, and they delete the hold, the next member in the queue will be emailed to be notified of their turn.

Members can place holds for themselves by looking at the toy's page.

